

What Makes a Successful City?

A Future Cities Workshop

Event Guide:

This one-day event will showcase the University of Strathclyde's Institute for Future Cities and introduce you to the City Observatory in the new Technology and Innovation Centre. This interdisciplinary workshop, designed for a wide audience, will look at wellbeing, energy, security, urban design, transport, and data analytics in the context of improving city life. In addition to speakers from the University of Strathclyde, Richard Bellingham, Director of the Institute for Future Cities, will be joined by:

- David Page, Page\Park Architects
- Ross Hunter, Graven Images
- Cathy Johnston, Glasgow City Council
- Scott Cain, Future Cities Catapult
- Jeremy Levesley, University of Leicester.

Venue & Registration:

Friday 8th May 2015
Registration from 9.30am
Event 9.55am - 4.00pm

The Technology and Innovation Centre
University of Strathclyde
99 George Street
Glasgow, G1 1RD (map)

To register please go to:
<http://www.engage.strath.ac.uk/event/223/>

 @EngageStrath

Audience:

- Researchers across a range of disciplines, including science, engineering and social sciences.
- Stakeholders and external partners in Future Cities, including industry and government.

Benefits of attending:

This event will be an opportunity for attendees to hear the latest from the Institute for Future Cities and about the advantages derived from collaborations taking place with a range of businesses and local government. Take advantage of the networking breaks to make new contacts and don't miss out on the chance to visit the newly opened City Observatory.

Event Organisers:

Des Higham
d.j.higham@strath.ac.uk
+44 (0)141 548 3716

Kerem Akartunali
kerem.akartunali@strath.ac.uk
+44 (0)141 548 4542

Helen Kendrick
helen.kendrick@strath.ac.uk
+44 (0)141 548 3863

@iFutureCities
#strathcity2015
www.strath.ac.uk/cities/