

Talking History

The Scottish Oral History Centre: Engaging Communities

Event Guide:

The Scottish Oral History Centre (SOHC) invites you to the launch of their new Centre of research and training. Participants are welcome to explore the new facilities, and to learn about the work and expertise of the staff and the ways in which the Centre engages with academics and the wider community.

The event will include an information presentation by the Heritage Lottery Fund and also showcase the work of the Centre, its research projects and its partnerships with external organisations, community groups and the public.

Venue & Registration:

Monday 29 April 2013
Curran Building, Level 6, Room 624 (map)

Afternoon session:

Registration 1.30pm
Afternoon session 2.00pm – 5.00pm

If you would like to attend the afternoon session, please register at:

www.engage.strath.ac.uk/event/18

Evening session:

Networking buffet from 5.00pm
Public lecture 6.00 - 7.45pm

For more information and to register for the event please visit the event page:

www.engage.strath.ac.uk/event/54

Audience:

- Community Groups
- Academics
- Heritage Organisations
- Anyone with an interest in oral history, history, reminiscence and health, and cultural heritage

Benefits of attending:

- An opportunity to exchange ideas on developing and sustaining oral history within public heritage.
- A chance to view the facilities of the SOHC, the only one of its kind north of London.
- Hear from Professor Paul Thompson, University of Essex and author of The Voice of the Past.
- Network with a view to pursuing new collaborators and projects.

Event Organisers:

Dr Sue Morrison, Scottish Oral History Centre
Susan.Morrison@strath.ac.uk

Caroline Marley, Research and Knowledge Exchange Team, 0141 444 8421
caroline.marley@strath.ac.uk

This event is part of Engage with Strathclyde, a week of events promoting the University of Strathclyde's external partnerships that enhance our research and teaching.