Event Guide:

This full-day event will present the latest European trends in the quality of work, which includes employment security, skills, autonomy, and rewards. Job quality has risen in the public policy agenda, as well as being increasingly recognised as important for business performance and employee wellbeing.

The event showcases the work of the European Changing Employment Network of policy and academic researchers, unions, employers and practitioners.

Contributors to the event include: the International Labour Organisation (ILO), European Trade Union Institute (ETUI), University of Gothenburg, Goethe University of Frankfurt, University of Sheffield, PCG-Project Consult GmbH (Germany) and UNISON.

Venue & Registration:

Tuesday 3rd May 2016
Registration and refreshments from 10.30am
Event 11.00am-6.00pm including an opportunity for networking.
